

The Importance of Certification

To our customers.

RCKsinks is proud to announce the awarding of a

Certificate of Compliance
from Underwriters Laboratories LLC , more popularly known as simply “UL”

UL is the most stringent certification authority in the world. Our sinks were sent to their facility in Illinois for extensive testing for both material quality and structural integrity. Once approved, our manufacturing plant was then inspected to guarantee our sinks would consistently be made to the highest standards. Quarterly manufacturing inspections are mandated .

Proof that only the finest quality and most durable 304 18/10 Stainless Steel is used in the sink's construction. Critical tolerances maintained throughout the production and assembly process.

What that means to you-
That you have purchased the finest quality sink that could be manufactured anywhere in the world. With a world renowned 3rd party organization -UL- acting to protect your interests as consumers.

We know you will enjoy your kitchen sink for years to come!
